The racket vending machine makes renting or buying padel rackets simple (tennis rackets possible too), with a fully integrated return system. Customers choose a racket on the touchscreen, see price and details, and pay directly at the machine — the compartment only opens once payment is confirmed.

Every racket keeps its own locked compartment and returns to that same slot. All activity updates in real time in the cloud backend, so operators always have full visibility and can step in remotely if needed.

GOOD TO KNOW
Rental only, or can it sell too?

Both. Any compartment can be switched to direct sale — stock is set back to available manually after each purchase.

What if the rental time is exceeded?

No deposit is taken. Like a parking meter, an optional additional payment is charged automatically if the rental runs over.

Indoor or outdoor?

Built for indoor use. An outdoor-rated version is available for a surcharge.

Need more than 30 rackets?

An optional add-on unit connects to add 15 further compartments.
